What's interesting is that bankruptcy, as a result of lawfare just doesn't carry the stigma it used to.. The left wanted a culture change so much.. but they don't like it when the rabbit has the gun.

With all of these stories about lawfare enticing greedy people to file frivolous lawsuits - it's important to understand it is the lawyers who benefit. They always win. The Plaintiff is just a source of cash.

If you are a lawmaker, activist or regular person understand lawfare and have a plan to fight it- should you become a victim.

About Bankruptcy and Lawfare.. in the case of Alex Jones- it did not wipe out his judgment. It greatly reduced it- but not to the point he could pay it back and get it behind him.
